THE Washington branch of the American Central Committee for Russian Relief, Mrs. Robert Lansing, president, ushered in its third season yesterday with an open meeting at the Russian Embassy, 1,125 Sixteenth Street. As shown in Mrs. Lansing's report, and by an address of the Princess Cantacuzene, the work of the Washington Chapter is meeting with most gratifying results with relief in clothing, food and money, all reaching the destitute refugees of South Russia regularly and with reasonable promptness.

While the work of sewing and knitting has continued all through the summer, it is urged on all friends of the movement that an increased effort be made in the present season, when clothing is as scarce as ever. The Central Committee, of which the Princess Cantacuzene is the head, has moved its offices to Washington and will co-operate with all chapters from the capital. The committee has received from Russia several large boxes of decorative handiwork, metal, wood and embroidery, which will be put on sale in the next few weeks in an effort to earn more material, that the workers, gentlewomen and peasants alike, may continue their home industries and gradually work back to a self-supporting ex-

Mrs. Edwin Root, who returned o Washington for the meeting; Miss Sheridan, who succeeds Mrs Livingston Farrand as Treasurer of the Washington branch, and its very competent secretary, Mrs. Sherman Miles, assisted Mrs. Lansing. All friends of the movement are invited to meet Mrs. Lansing any Friday morning at the above address.

The Russian Ambassador, Boris Bakhmeteff, has established his residence in the former imperial embassy. This will not, however, interfere with the relief work, as two large drawing rooms are given over for this purpose.
